By Burnis K. Lawrence Publisher

SATURDAY IS VOTING . . . time in Hondo on the $200,000 bond issue which includes what I would classify as "two most unnecessary items" -- the $50,000 automatic sprinkler system [don't be fooled by the wording "For Park Improvements"] for the golf course, and a new $150,000 library building.

When I say unnecessary, I mean they are not essential enough to collar local residents with an extra tax burden at this time. Agreed, the tax bite would be comparatively light, but with the economic picture so out of focus any extra tax could be a burden by the end of the year.

So I would say that the best favor local residents can do themselves is to say "no" loud and clear Saturday. If the negative vote sounds loud enough perhaps it will get through to the City Council that we don't appreciate them passing the buck to us on an item such as the sprinkler system which triggered the whole thing. If the City can't help them, then let the Council tell them so without putting the public to the expense of an election

Now, when our nation's economy settles back to a more normal level, and it will in due time, perhaps we can take a close look at what our city needs, and after setting priorities, go about the task of getting them.

But now is not the time.

ABSENTEEISM

. . . in American business is fast becoming a problem of great magnitude and is being put into focus by everyone concerned. A recent report by Morgan Guarantee Trust Co. says such labor leaders as I. W. Abel of the United Steelworkers are becoming as alarmed over absenteeism as is management. The bank's economists say growing absenteeism is a big factor in failure of the U.S. productivity rate to keep pace with foreign competitors.

The figures on absenteeism due to illness, real or feigned, are astonishing. In 1972, absences of less than a week caused industry losses of 43.8 million manhours, or 1.5 percent of the full manhour capacity of the working force. Absences of more than a week cost another 59.4 million manhours. On a whole, this kind of absenteeism has grown 15 percent in the last 10 years, despite constantly improving health conditions in factories and offices.

Time was when Americans felt compulsive pride in doing their share giving as the saying went "a day's work for a day's pay." From the looks of these statistics, we'd better start feeling that way again.

A CLOSELY RELATED . . . factor in production loss in almost any job is talking. Yep, the seemingly harmless pasttime of visiting with one's co-workers, people who drop in, or over the phone.

Check it where you work just any old day and I bet if you can put a stopwatch to all the talking [now by talking I mean visiting about everything under the sun besides work related subjects] you would find the company loses an average of 21/2 hours per day of production time. It might even go higher if you have a large number of employees.

Talking not only cuts down on production; it also increases errors in whatever a person is doing. No one can devote one hundred percent concentration to their job while they are keeping up a constant stream of yakking. Check it sometime and challenge me if I am wrong.

Noonan seeks precinct post

Jerome F. Noonan today announced his candidacy for County Commissioner, Precinct 2. Noonan, life-long resident of and an eleven-year employee of Precinct 2, states that his years of experience in road maintenance have given him the opportunity to study and to understand the problems and the needs of not only Precinct 2, but those of the entire county as well.

Describing himself as a conservative in fiscal matters, Noonan emphasized the need for continuing close contact with the already over-burdened tax payers.

The father of eight children, he expressed his concern over the high cost of living and of increasing property taxes. As a member of the Board of Equalization and as one of the comptrollers of the County budget, Noonan asserts that he will closely analyze the tax rates and the county budget so that the needs of the county and of its citizens will be met with the least expenditure

Court handles cases

Three criminal cases were handled by the District Court of Judge Ross E. Doughty during its session here last week.

In the case which dates back to 1961, Ernest Munoz was discharged and allowed to go free, found sane by the jury after a sanity hearing.

In 1962, Munoz had been declared insane dur-ing his trial for murder with malice aforethought. Since that time, he has been undergoing psychia-tric treatment and care in a mental hospital.

Tuesday, the Court found him to have been insane on the day of the offense, but sane as of this date, and he was discharged.

Linda LaCoste McGuffin pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and passing. She was sentenced to serve not less than two years, nor more than three years in the penitentiary.

The third case involved Genaro Segura Bursiaga, charged with murder with malice aforethought.

In a sanity hearing, the jury returned a verdict of 'sane at all times" and, accordingly, he will stand trial later this year.

could be approved and put up for sale if both voting groups approve them; they could be defeated outright if both groups fail to approve them; or, they could be held in a sort of limbo until the Court makes its ruling should either group approve them while the other group defeats them.

Voter interest appears to be light, despite the inclusion of the new group of voters.

Wednesday morning, with one day left to vote absentee, only eight votes had been cast at City Hall.

Youth arrested

Medina County Sheriff's Deputy Paige Boone arrested James M. Williamson, 18, across the street from Devine High School Friday afternoon for allegedly selling marijuana.

Williamson, who had been under surveillance for a short while before his arrest, has been charged in a felony complaint with sale of marijuana.

Officers allegedly found ten lids of refined marijuana, a small quantity of hashish, two pipes and equipment for refining marijuana in Williamson's possession.

Williamson is currently $15,000 bond.

Court handles cases

Three criminal cases were handled by the District Court of Judge Ross E. Doughty during its session here last week. In the case which dates back to 1961, Ernest Munoz was discharged and allowed to go free, found sane by the jury after a sanity hearing.

In 1962, Munoz had been declared insane during his trial for murder with malice aforethought. Since that time, he has been undergoing psychia-tric treatment and care in a mental hospital.

Tuesday, the Court found him to have been insane on the day of the offense, but sane as of this date, and he was discharged.

Linda LaCoste McGuffin pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and passing. She was sentenced to serve not less than two years, nor more than three years in the penitentiary.

The third case involved Genaro Segura Bursiaga, charged with murder with malice aforethought.

In a sanity hearing, the jury returned a verdict of 'sane at all times" and, accordingly, he will stand trial later this year.

In our block, last year's green leaves are still clinging to gnarled trunks and branches of the oldest mesquite trees. A newer crop is just beginning to feather out and birds seem happy about the whole idea.

So mild has been the winter along the coast that even the tourist geese are organizing travel groups to head back home for the cooler summer.

We have seen and heard several skeins of assorted geese [on the wing] but many gaggles [on the water] are maintaining an attitude of skepticism about being too

Besides, the swimming's fine and there's food a-plenty along the shoreline.

Sure enough, there is a Sun! This city's record [not bragging] for fog endurance was set in Jan. 1937 when the weatherman logged 28 days of fog.

This year we got by with a few less but I have been tempted several times to dateline this column "Foggy Bottom, Texas.

"Be a Blue Bird. It's lots of fun," recommended VELMA GARCIA, as reporter for Hondo's Happy Face BB Group.

I read the press reports of various young citizens organizations by the young and duly-elected reporters themselves. This is the accepted tradition of "teaching young ideas to shoot" and in the right direction, too.

Adults with otherwise good intentions, acting as anonymous "ghost writers" are not helping their children a bit when they take over their responsibilities. It says here.

Last month I mentioned that the price of firewood was about $40 a cord, but wooden-you know:

Now an Inglewood supplier offers custom-cut logs, delivered right to your fireplace, at $75 a cord, which measures out to a stack 24 inches wide, four feet high and 16 feet long, enough for this-kind-of-a-winter.

Or, a rick, which is one-quarter of a cord, only costs $25. Better to buy the king-size, economy package.

RAY REXROAD and family have become Floridians, by reason of a job promotion. Hildegard writes in glowing terms of the beauty of the area.

Now look for her to give that tourist-appealing Florida sunshine some competition. Her happy spirit is delightfully contagious.

February 12th marks the 165th anniversary of of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, our 16th president. In 1966, when I was responsible for either writing or rounding up two weekly editorials for the Anvil Herald, I used a guest editorial, titled "These Truths Hold" and duly credited it to the Colorado County Citizen where it had previously appeared.

Credited to Lincoln were "Ten Truths" which I assumed came straight from the presidential oratory.

BILL BERGER whose span of knowledge covers a lot of territory questioned the authenticity of the Ten Points and wrote to the librarian of the Library of Congress, Washington, for verification.

I still have Bill's original letter [dated Feb. 8, 1966, when he was among the Texas Water Rights Commission members] and the detailed reply [3 pages] which the LC provided.

Here is Point 10 which seems to fit the situation somehow: "You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves." [I should have checked first].

Whoever did say it packed a lot of truth in it. And I tried to learn from it not to take my homework too much for granted.

I am returning the letters to Bill so he can see how they have "endured", and I believe he still remembers the story. He seldom forgets!

Headlines in the daily news and elsewhere intrigue me. Here are two which headed articles in last week's reading:

"Motherhood Requires Commitment" -- but it didn't specify to what institution.

"If you can't say something nice about somebody, let's hear it." Might be a good slogan for some clubs I

Youth arrested

Medina County Sheriff's Deputy Paige Boone arrested James M. Williamson, 18, across the street from Devine High School Friday afternoon for allegedly selling marijuana.

Williamson, who had been under surveillance for a short while before his arrest, has been charged in a felony complaint with sale of marijuana.

Officers allegedly found ten lids of refined marijuana, a small quantity of hashish, two pipes and equipment for refining marijuana in Williamson's possession.

Court handles cases

Three criminal cases were handled by the District Court of Judge Ross E. Doughty during its session here last week. In the case which dates back to 1961, Ernest Munoz was discharged and allowed to go free, found sane by the jury after a sanity hearing.

In 1962, Munoz had been declared insane during his trial for murder with malice aforethought. Since that time, he has been undergoing psychiatric treatment and care in a mental hospital.

Tuesday, the Court found him to have been insane on the day of the offense, but sane as of this date, and he was discharged.

Linda LaCoste McGuffin pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and passing. She was sentenced to serve not less than two years, nor more than three years in the penitentiary.

The third case involved Genaro Segura Bursiaga, charged with murder with malice aforethought.

In a sanity hearing, the jury returned a verdict of 'sane at all times" and, accordingly, he will stand trial later this year.

Already it's February already! And, whether the Texas mesquite trees are being prescient, according to tradition, or just plain confused, only the days before spring's official arrival will tell. Check the verdict about

In our block, last year's green leaves are still clinging to gnarled trunks and branches of the oldest mesquite trees. A newer crop is just beginning to feather out and birds seem happy about the whole idea.

So mild has been the winter along the coast that even the tourist geese are organizing travel groups to head back home for the cooler summer.

We have seen and heard several skeins of assorted geese [on the wing] but many gaggles [on the water] are maintaining an attitude of skepticism about being too

Besides, the swimming's fine and there's food a-plenty along the shoreline.

Sure enough, there is a Sun! This city's record [not bragging] for fog endurance was set in Jan. 1937 when the weatherman logged 28 days of fog.

This year we got by with a few less but I have been tempted several times to dateline this column "Foggy Bottom, Texas.."

"Be a Blue Bird. It's lots of fun," recommended VELMA GARCIA, as reporter for Hondo's Happy Face

I read the press reports of various young citizens organizations by the young and duly-elected reporters themselves. This is the accepted tradition of "teaching young ideas to shoot" and in the right direction, too.

Adults with otherwise good intentions, acting as anonymous "ghost writers" are not helping their children a bit when they take over their responsibilities. It says here.

Last month I mentioned that the price of firewood was about $40 a cord, but wooden-you know:

Now an Inglewood supplier offers custom-cut logs, delivered right to your fireplace, at $75 a cord, which measures out to a stack 24 inches wide, four feet high and 16 feet long, enough for this-kind-of-a-winter.

Or, a rick, which is one-quarter of a cord, only costs $25. Better to buy the king-size, economy package.

RAY REXROAD and family have become Floridians, by reason of a job promotion. Hildegard writes in glowing terms of the beauty of the area.

Now look for her to give that tourist-appealing Florida sunshine some competition. Her happy spirit is delightfully contagious.

February 12th marks the 165th anniversary of of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, our 16th president.

In 1966, when I was responsible for either writing or rounding up two weekly editorials for the Anvil Herald, I used a guest editorial, titled "These Truths Hold" and duly credited it to the Colorado County Citizen where it had previously appeared.

Credited to Lincoln were "Ten Truths" which I assumed came straight from the presidential oratory.

BILL BERGER whose span of knowledge covers a lot of territory questioned the authenticity of the Ten Points and wrote to the librarian of the Library of Congress, Washington, for verification.

I still have Bill's original letter [dated Feb. 8, 1966, when he was among the Texas Water Rights Commission members] and the detailed reply [3 pages] which the LC provided.

Here is Point 10 which seems to fit the situation somehow: "You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves." [I should have checked first]. Whoever did say it packed a lot of truth in it. And I tried to learn from it not to take my homework too much for granted.

I am returning the letters to Bill so he can see how they have "endured", and I believe he still remembers the story. He seldom forgets!

Headlines in the daily news and elsewhere intrigue me. Here are two which headed articles in last week's

"Motherhood Requires Commitment" -- but it didn't specify to what institution.

"If you can't say something nice about somebody, let's hear it." Might be a good slogan for some clubs I have known.

Alternate heat sources help save fuel in home

Alternate heat sources in the home can help consumers save fuel supplies this winter, Mrs. Gaye Bippert, County Extension Agent, noted. Extra heat comes from woodburning, sunlight or adding humidity to the

For example, burning wood continuously in a fireplace supplements the home's heat supply.

However, leaving the damper open after the fire's out lets heat escape up the chimney. So, for maximum energy conservation, keep the fireplace damper tightly shut when not in use.

Also on bright, sunny days, fully utilize solar heat, the agent suggested.

To do this, keep curtains and blinds open wide on south or west windows -- to take advantage of the warm winter sun during dayligt hours.

Another conservatio method involves contro ling the amount of fu used in keeping a hom warm, she continued.

When no one is home turn the thermostat dow to 60 degrees. Warmin the house back up to 68 c 70 degrees just takes a fer minutes -- and uses les fuel than maintaining th higher temperature a day.

In addition, learn to liv with a little less heat.
Although most peopl feel comfortable in a 68-7 degree room, lower temper atures can be tolerated.

Slightly increasing hu midity while lowering th temperature is one way to add comfort.

"Dry air always seem: colder than air with abou 30 percent humidity," the agent explained.

McGraw joins Navy

Petty Officer Edmundo Conchas, a member of the Navy recruiting team in Uvalde, announces the enlistment of Patrick Joseph McGraw Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. McGraw Sr. of D'Hanis, where he graduated from high school in the month of May, 1973. He attended the fall semester at

S.W.T.J.C. in Uvalde. Pat enlisted in the Navy in November, 1973, under the Navy's guarantee school program, which will enable him to attend professional schooling in the field of his choice, which was, Navy Aviation Mechanics. Alternate heat sources help save fuel in home

Alternate heat sources in the home can help consumers save fuel supplies this winter, Mrs. Gaye Bippert, County Extension Agent, noted.

Extra heat comes from woodburning, sunlight or adding humidity to the

For example, burning wood continuously in a fireplace supplements the home's heat supply. However, leaving the damper open after the fire's out lets heat escape up the chimney. So, for maximum energy conservation, keep the fireplace damper tightly shut when not in use.

Also on bright, sunny days, fully utilize solar heat, the agent suggested. To do this, keep curtains and blinds open wide on south or west windows -- to take advantage of the warm winter sun during dayligt hours.

Another conservatio method involves contro ling the amount of fu used in keeping a hom warm, she continued.

When no one is home turn the thermostat dow to 60 degrees. Warmin the house back up to 68 c 70 degrees just takes a fer minutes -- and uses les fuel than maintaining th higher temperature a

In addition, learn to liv with a little less heat.

Although most peopl feel comfortable in a 68-7 degree room, lower temper atures can be tolerated.

Slightly increasing hu midity while lowering the temperature is one way to add comfort.

"Dry air always seem: colder than air with abou 30 percent humidity," the agent explained.

The change is due to expansion of computer equipment at Medina Electric Co-Op which computes utility bills for the City of Hondo.

New things to look for are a service address where service is actually located, as well as a billing address where the bill is actually mailed.

In most cases these two will be the same.

Dates when water and electric meters were read, both previous and present, will also be printed.

Heretofore, consumers with multiple meters, either electric or water, were given combined readings, with one bill for each. In the future the second meter will be billed as a second account with a special rate that will in most cases favor the consumer.
